Annex 3: Scope of Work/Terms of Reference

1. About Global Center on Adaptation (GCA)

The Global Center on Adaptation (GCA) is an international organization that works as a solutions broker to catalyze action and support for adaptation solutions, from the international to the local, in partnership with the public and private sector, to ensure we learn from each other and work together for a climate resilient future. Adapting to impacts of climate change provides a “win-win” for health, livelihoods, food security, water supply, human security, and economic growth. The work of the GCA elevates the visibility and political importance of climate adaptation and facilitates solutions, such as smarter investments, new technologies and better planning to become more resilient to climate-related threats. GCA is a rapidly growing organization with offices in Abidjan, Beijing, Dhaka, Groningen, and Rotterdam.

The GCA has an ambitious 2020-2025 business plan with three pillars:

- Programs and Action: Food Security; Using Nature for more resilient infrastructure; Water for Urban Growth and Resilience; Climate Finance; Youth Leadership
- Knowledge Acceleration: Building adaptation knowledge globally through cutting edge products such as the State and Trends in Adaptation Report and the Knowledge Exchange Platform
- Agenda Setting and Advocacy: Formulating policy messages to move the global, regional, and local adaptation agendas forward.

2. Background

2.1. Country Context

Somalia is ranked as one of the world's most climate vulnerable countries, experiencing a recurring cycle of droughts followed by floods. Somalia is placed 182 out of 187 countries on the ND-GAIN Vulnerability Index. The country is currently recovering from its worst drought on record, which lasted from 2021 to 2023. By the end of 2022, drought-induced displacement had reached over 1.3 million people. Following the drought, Somalia experienced multiple floods in 2023 that affected approximately 2.48 million people across the country, with about 1.2 million people displaced from their homes and around 118 deaths reported.

Somalia is facing rapid urbanization, exceeding projections, which significantly strains urban infrastructure and services. Somali's urban population is estimated to be expanding at a rate of 4.3%. By 2030, Somalia is expected to add 3.8 million residents to its urban areas, and by 2050, another 11.6 million, tripling its urban population over 30 years. However, climate shocks such as the aforementioned droughts are resulting in the surpassing of the projected population growth in Somali cities. The projected 46% of total population being urban dwellers is estimated to be 54% due to the influx of IDPs into cities. This signals a need for rapid expansion in urban infrastructure and services, for which private sector and non-state actors have stepped in to deliver. Although cities are a catalyst of development for Somalia, without climate resilience considerations, this effect can be significantly hampered.

Ongoing political instability is deepening the existing vulnerabilities of communities, especially in urban areas. Conflict and fragility are driving significant internal displacement, concentrated in urban centers, further exacerbating climate stress. Somalia has been characterized by a long history of state collapse since 1991, leading to one of the most protracted cases of statelessness globally. Recent military operations against al-Shabab, initiated in August 2022 by clan militias and Somali armed forces, have increased conflict and fragility in the country. The conflict has strained climate response efforts. During the recent drought, al-Shabab undermined government relief initiatives by setting fire to food trucks and destroying water wells, as well as damaging sections of the Shabelle riverbank. As a result, large numbers of people are being displaced and streaming to urban centers. The World Bank estimates that 2.6 million internally displaced persons (IDPs) have self-settled in over 2,400 sites across urban and peri-urban areas.

To increase climate resilience of Somali's cities, developing climate-resilient urban infrastructure and services and enhancing government capacity to deliver these are key. The World Bank's SURP-II project recognizes the need to enhance climate resilience in urban areas to address the challenges posed by the influx of internally displaced persons (IDPs) and rapid urbanization. The project aims to strengthen local government capacity for public service delivery and increase access to climate-resilient urban infrastructure and services.

Political and institutional instability in the country have contributed to low capacity, hindering the implementation of climate resilient initiatives. Somalia is ranked 122 out of 137 in the global governance index. The relatively new federal government of Somalia (FGS), established in 2012, is still grappling with ongoing conflicts. In addition, clan dynamics significantly influence the selection of appointees for government positions, often leading appointments to lean on clan affiliation rather than merit. Although government officials acknowledge the deep impacts of climate change, there is very limited capacity to ensure adoption of climate adaptation and resilience solutions.

2.2. World Bank's Somalia Urban Resilience Project II (SURP-II)

The World Bank (WB) is implementing Somalia Urban Resilience Project II (SURP II) with the Project Development Objective (PDO) to strengthen public service delivery capacity of local governments, increase access to climate-resilient urban infrastructure and services, and to provide immediate and effective response to an eligible crisis or emergency in selected areas. The project supports six strategically important cities across five Federal Member States and the Benadir Regional Administration (BRA), and which include the cities of Mogadishu, Garowe, Baidoa, Kismayo, Dhusamareb, and Beledweyene.

2.3. GCA Support to SURP-II

GCA is providing technical assistance to the WB task team to strengthen local capacity to promote the uptake of climate-resilient investments under SURP-II. For this purpose, GCA will develop and deliver a tailored urban climate resilience masterclass, leveraging the training content and materials developed for Kenya under GCA's technical assistance to the WB's Second Kenya Urban Support Program (KUSP-II).

3. Objective of the Assignment

GCA is seeking a qualified international Individual Consultant (IC), experienced in developing highly technical trainings, to provide technical expertise, quality assurance, and coordination support to its training partner in the customization and delivery of the Urban Climate Resilience Masterclass for Somalia. The consultant will ensure the training is tailored to the needs of relevant Somali stakeholders and meets high standards of effectiveness and impact.

4. Scope of the Services, Key Tasks and Activities to be Performed

The Consultant is expected to guide the development, quality, and delivery of the three core outputs of the training partner (see Annex A for details).

Output 1. Co-design workshop

- Supervise the scope and the design of the co-design workshop, ensuring adoption of highly engaging stakeholder participation approaches are utilized
- Participate in and support the moderation of the co-design workshop

Output 2. Tailored UCRMC training materials

- Provide technical guidance and advice for the tailoring of the UCRMC training materials (i.e., training modules, trainer handbook, and trainee handbook)
- Assure quality of the training materials and their consistency with similar GCA trainings

Output 3. Trainings

- Support the training partner team to deliver training-of-trainers (ToT)
- Participate in the delivery of the UCRMC ToT in Kenya
- Provide structured guidance for the training partner team to observe pilot trainings

5. Institutional and Organization Arrangements

The Consultant will report to and will be supported by the GCA Global Lead, Water and Urban or a delegated Water and Urban team member.

6. Qualifications

The expected qualifications of the Consultant are as follows:

- At least a master's degree in urban development, climate adaptation, international development, or a relevant field.
- Minimum 8 years of experience advising, leading, developing, and delivering capacity building activities on urban development, climate adaptation and resilience in developing countries, preferably in Africa.
- Experience designing and managing multistakeholder engagement processes.
- Prior experience developing urban development, urban climate adaptation and resilience related trainings is desirable.
- Familiarity working with international development organizations and multilateral development banks is a plus.
- Knowledge of local development context of Somalia or FCS countries are considered a plus.
- Excellent writing, presentation, and communication skills in English, backed by an outstanding ability to articulate and present complex ideas into clear advice and recommendations to a diverse audience of stakeholders at the senior political and technical levels.

7. Location

The assignment is home-based, with two (2) travels to Nairobi, Kenya, which will be reimbursed based on actuals by GCA in alignment with GCA travel policies.

8. Duration/Period

The duration of the assignment is from April, 2025, to January, 2026, and the expected level of effort is 60 days.

9. Payment Schedule

The payments will be disbursed based on actual full days worked per month, upon submission of monthly invoices and timesheets.

10. Services and Facilities to be provided by GCA

GCA will not be responsible for services/facilities such as office space and vehicles, or computer equipment.

GCA will reimburse travel costs, based on GCA travel policies.

Annex A. Training Partner's scope of activities

Output 1. Co-design workshop

The partner will deliver a co-design workshop, which should bring together the SURP-II Project Implementation Unit (PIU) under the Ministry of Public Works (MoPW), World Bank, key Somali stakeholders (e.g., representatives from different levels of government), host training institution (which will be rolling out the training in Somalia in the long-term), and content experts, as well as GCA staff.

To ensure full familiarity with the content of the existing UCRMC materials (which are Kenya-focused) could be shared ahead of the session with relevant participants.

Based on the existing structure of the UCRMC (as detailed in Annex 3), the co-design workshop is expected to:

- Shape the objectives, target audience(s), scope, and structure of the UCRMC to meet the priority capacity needs and skill gaps of relevant Somali stakeholders (e.g., Federal Government of Somalia, Federal Member States, municipal governments) on urban climate resilience within a four-to-five-day training,
- Gather inputs to tailor the content, interactive exercises, group work, and peer-to-peer learning approaches in alignment with the country's FCS status and cultural context,
- Identify additional resources resulting from relevant activities (e.g., research, strategy development, capacity building, and tools) of development partners, especially those relevant for FCS contexts, and
- Collect case studies and best practices from Somalia, as well as those from Somaliland, Djibouti, and other relevant countries that exemplify urban climate resilience solutions.

A module on nature-based solutions may be included to increase awareness and capacity on NbS for urban resilience. This module should incorporate results and findings from GCA's work which document existing urban resilience nature-based solutions in Kenya and the region, and will leverage GCA's existing training materials on nature-based solutions.

Output 2. Tailored UCRMC training materials

The outcomes of the co-design workshop should be used to tailor the existing UCRMC materials into a course suitable for an FCS setting. The course materials should be developed in a way that they can be either delivered in-person over 4-5 days or be used for self-paced learning. These materials are:

- Output 2.1. UCRMC Training Modules, which will be used by trainers or by self-paced learners.
- Output 2.2. Trainer Handbook, which will guide trainers as they deliver the training and help them align the content of the UCRMC with the local context and needs.
- Output 2.3. Trainee Handbook, which will reinforce and support learning and provide a reference for concepts and strategies covered in UCRMC.

Output 3. Trainings

The UCRMC is expected to be rolled out by leveraging a training of trainers (ToT) approach, followed by two pilot trainings. As the fragile security situation in Somalia poses significant risks for travel, in consultation with the WB, Kenya was identified as a potential host country. Subsequent training programs to local government officials will be delivered in Somalia by a host institution, which will be identified by key SURP-II stakeholders.

In summary, the rollout of the UCRMC will consist of the following outputs:

- Output 3.1. Training of trainers (ToT) should be delivered to 15-30 trainers, who will be capacitated to deliver long-term capacity building for key stakeholders (i.e., city officials) at a dedicated host training institution in Somalia (which will be identified by the WB and the Government of Somalia) or in Kenya. The key SURP-II stakeholders (e.g. MoPW) should be provided with guidance to select the trainer candidates who will participate in the ToT. The trainers should be provided with training modules, complemented with supplementary materials (i.e., trainer handbook and trainee handbook), and should be trained in how to deliver the course content together with the interactive exercises. Upon successful completion of the ToT, the trainer candidates should be provided certificates.

- 10.1 All right, title and interest in the Deliverables, including any products, methods, works and/or materials developed by the Contractor, in whole or in part, during or in connection with this Contract, shall automatically vest in the GCA upon creation and the GCA shall be the sole and unlimited owner thereof and of rights therein throughout the world perpetually. To effect this transfer, the following acts must at any rate be performed: by signing the Contract, Contractor transfers to GCA all existing and future Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights to existing and future Deliverables and the results of the Services.
- 10.4 Insofar as these acts prove not to ensure that all Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights are transferred to the GCA, the Contractor undertakes, if the situation arises, to do everything possible to effect the transfer, without the Contractor being allowed to attach further conditions to its cooperation. As long as this has not been done, Contractor hereby gives the GCA: an irrevocable authorization to exercise and protect the powers arising from the relevant Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights in and out of court; an exclusive, royalty-free, transferable, irrevocable, perpetual and worldwide license to use all Deliverables and the Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights pertaining thereto.

- 10.6 The Contractor shall hold or obtain all consents, permissions and/or clearances in third-party intellectual property rights necessary to enable it to perform the Services. The Contractor shall be liable for any violation of legal provisions or rights of third parties in respect of all rights used in the Deliverables or during the performance of the Services. The Contractor, to the extent permitted by law, agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the GCA from all claims and causes of action asserted by third parties based on (alleged) Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights or on any other basis.

- 10.7 It is acknowledged and agreed by the Parties that GCA owns all property rights and may use, adapt, add to and subtract from the Deliverables and combine these with other artistic or literary material and to publish the result by any means, it being understood that the Contractor (including its employees and subcontractors) hereby waives and agrees not to exercise or enforce any so-called “moral rights” which may now or may hereafter be recognized.
- 10.8 GCA grants Contractor a non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-assignable and limited right and license to use the following only to perform the Services in accordance with this Contract: The GCA’s trademarks, trade names, tag lines logos or service marks and any information made available to the Contractor by the GCA.
- 10.9

- 11.1.1 Either Party, if the other Party becomes insolvent, has applied for a suspension of payment, or that other Party has been adjudicated bankrupt;
 - 11.1.2 Either Party, if the other Party is prevented by force majeure from complying with its obligations wholly or in part for a period of three months or more;
 - 11.1.3 Either Party, if the other Party discontinues its business operations;
 - 11.1.4 The GCA, if the Contractor, after a written demand from the GCA allowing a reasonable time for compliance, still fails attributable to comply promptly, properly or at all with any obligation under this Contract;
 - 11.1.5 The GCA, if there is any doubt about the reliability and/or integrity of the Contractor, resulting from the screening process including but not limited to, for example, the condition that it has been determined that the Contractor has been involved in serious incidents or irregularities with previously contracted persons, clients, employers and/or on previous assignments;
 - 11.1.6 The GCA, if one or more of the exclusion criteria mentioned in section I or section II of the signed Declaration on Honor becomes true for the Contractor.
- 11.2 Termination of this Contract shall not affect the other rights and/or recovery possibilities of the Party terminating it.

- 11.3 In the event of termination by GCA due to the fault of the Contractor, the GCA shall withhold and deduct from payment to Contractor the amount reasonably deemed necessary to complete the Services and deliver the Deliverables.
- 11.4 Unless and to the extent otherwise specified in this Contract, on the termination of this Contract for any reason, the GCA shall be responsible for paying the part of the Fee for Deliverables that have been accepted by the GCA up to and including the effective date of termination.
- 11.5 In the event that either Party wishes to terminate this Contract, a 30-day notice period will be taken into account by both the Contractor and the GCA, except for the situations mentioned in Article 11.1 above.
- 11.6 The following Articles shall survive any termination, cancellation or expiration of this Contract, together with any other provisions herein that by their nature shall survive: Article 7 (Warranties), Article 8 (Indemnification), Article 9 (Confidentiality and Marks), Article 10 (Intellectual, Industry and Proprietary Rights), Article 14.8 (Notice) and Article 15 (Applicable Law).

From that moment all the fees involved will be considered as (gross) wages including holiday allowance and be reduced to the level where payment without wage taxes and/ or social security contributions can take place.

ARTICLE 13

- 13.1 The Contractor agrees to bear the risks pertaining to the Services, including sickness and inability to work, and if the Contractor takes out insurance to cover such risks, the Contractor shall bear the cost of such insurance.

I acknowledge that I have received a copy of the Code of Conduct, which describes the standards of behavior expected by GCA and I agree to act in accord with those standards as a condition of my agreement with GCA.

I have read and understood the Anti-Fraud Policy, which describes acts or omissions that are considered as fraud or corruption and that are not permitted by GCA. I agree to act in accord with the Anti-Fraud Policy as a condition of my agreement with GCA.

I also acknowledge that I understand the reporting process for complaints and any suspicions of misconduct, illegal actions, or violations of the Code of Conduct or any other GCA policies and rules. I will use the webform on GCA's website at <https://gca.org/about-us/contact-us/> to report such incidents. In case I encounter difficulties accessing the online complaint form, I will send an email to speakup@gca.org to report integrity violations or to safeguarding@gca.org to report incidents of Sexual Exploitation, Abuse, and Harassment. If I need to report anything urgently, I will call or use WhatsApp to contact the Whistle Officer at +31 643147051. I understand that it is my duty to speak up immediately if I witness an incident, suspect an integrity violation, suspect a breach of a policy, feel harassed, or have a complaint regarding GCA or its associated parties or individuals.

I understand that if I have questions at any time about any of these documents, I will consult the GCA contact person or the Human Resources staff for clarification.

Finally, I understand that the contents of the documents may change at any time at the sole discretion of GCA, which relevant changes GCA informs me of. Changes are effective as of the date of their publication.
