1. Introduction

1.1 Global Center on Adaptation

The Global Center on Adaptation (GCA) is an international organization that works as a solutions broker to catalyze action and support for adaptation solutions, from the international to the local, in partnership with the public and private sector, to ensure we learn from each other and work together for a climate resilient future. Adapting to impacts of climate change provides a “win-win” for livelihoods, food security, water supply, health, security, and economic growth. The work of the GCA elevates the visibility and political importance of climate adaptation and facilitates solutions, such as smarter investments, new technologies and better planning to become more resilient to climate related threats. GCA is a rapidly growing organization with offices in Abidjan, Beijing, Dhaka, Groningen, and Rotterdam.

The GCA’s ambitious 2020-2025 business plan and strategy have three pillars:

- Programs: Food Security; Using Nature for more resilient infrastructure; Water for Urban Growth and Resilience; Climate Finance; Youth Leadership.
- Knowledge: Building adaptation knowledge globally through cutting edge products such as the State and Trends in Adaptation Report and the Adaptation Knowledge Portal.
- Advocacy and Awareness: Formulating policy messages to move the global, regional, and local adaptation agendas forward.

1.2 Introduction to GCA’s Work on Locally Led Adaptation (LLA)

The impacts of climate change are most acutely felt by socially, economically, and politically disadvantaged and marginalized people and groups because of their higher vulnerability and lower adaptive capacity. Recognizing the highly localized nature of climate impacts; the importance of local adaptation action; the potential and creativity of communities to develop locally appropriate and innovative solutions; the ownership benefits of community-driven action; and the strong need for accountability to poor and marginalized communities affected by climate change, the GCA is strongly committed to addressing barriers to accelerating and scaling up LLA through the Global Hub on Locally Led Adaptation. The Hub aims to promote LLA at scale, with speed, to reduce climate risks for populations and sections of society that are most vulnerable to climate change. The activities of the Hub are guided by the eight Principles for Locally Led Adaptation.

In addition to knowledge sharing, peer-to-peer learning and capacity strengthening, the Global Hub on LLA supports the development of People’s Adaptation Plans, based on the local contextualization of this Guide, as part of the GCA’s Adaptation Acceleration Program. The Hub is currently supporting People’s Adaptation Plans in multiple countries across Africa and nine cities in Bangladesh. These Plans are produced by communities exposed to vulnerability, with facilitation by GCA partners, to inform investments by projects from International Financial Institutions (IFIs) such as the World Bank, African Development Bank, Asian Development Bank, and Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank.

2. Description of Services

2.1 Background of this Assignment

GCA's national infrastructure stress test estimates that the road network in Bangladesh can suffer annual damages as high as €7.4 billion – 1.6% of the national GDP in 2023 – during coastal flood events (RCP4.5, 50-year events). According to the GCA study, 95% of the road network (170,782 km) is exposed to at least one type of climate hazard.

Roads can also block the natural flow of water if they are not well planned, resulting in flooding, land erosion, sedimentation, reduced recharge of aquifers and rivers, and damage to personal and public property, infrastructure and agricultural assets. The roads themselves are damaged due to the disrupted water flow, causing further negative impacts on poor communities by restricting access to markets and health care and educational facilities, and negatively contributing to road safety. On the flip side, if roads are well planned, designed and maintained, they can result in multiple benefits to communities, including improved agricultural productivity and access to water and other public services.

The World Bank is currently preparing the US$ 200 million “Climate Smart Rural Transport Project (CSmaRT)” which aims to enhance the climate resilience of the transport network in rural Bangladesh by implementing integrated rural transport planning and resilient transport asset management in 41 out of 64 districts in Bangladesh. It focuses on designing climate-resilient and safer rural roads, establishing an integrated rural transport planning and resilient asset management, and adopting sustainable road maintenance approaches through Performance-Based Maintenance Contracts (PBMCs). Additionally, it includes pilot dredging of rural waterways and ports to explore alternative modes of transport in rural Bangladesh.

Despite the ambitious plan to invest in rural transport network in 41 districts, there are limitations to adequately address potential climate risks to rural roads, and direct and cascading climate impacts on key sectors (such as agriculture, energy, and public health), which can impede national efforts to reduce poverty and achieve the Sustainable Development Goals. Several sectors rely heavily on the rural transport system in Bangladesh, and disruptions in transport typically have knock-on effects on these sectors, well beyond the affected areas.

Recognizing this, the World Bank has requested GCA's support to engage low-income communities, particularly women, living in the hinterland of the roads in select project areas through Women's Adaptation Labs. The goal is to inform the planning and design of roads under the project, maximizing not only benefits such as improved mobility and access to essential services, but also enhancing water management by better managing road runoff and making it available for various purposes, such as agriculture and groundwater recharge. To achieve this, the Green Roads for Water approach will be followed, which promotes the use of roads as tools for water management and climate resilience. Various Green Roads for Water measures will be applied when designing new roads or maintaining and upgrading existing ones. These measures include capturing runoff through strategic channels, (gated) culverts, and side drains, storing it in ponds or trenches, and making it available for uses such as agricultural irrigation or livestock drinking water.

2.2 Purpose of this Assignment

GCA seeks an implementation partner (who will work in partnership with another local partner based in Rajshahi) with substantial expertise in community engagement and community-led development, climate adaptation planning, and facilitating multi-disciplinary dialogues, to engage and support women's groups living in the hinterland of two selected stretches of roads (not more than 10 KM each) in Rajshahi to identify key climate vulnerabilities, and collaborate with technical experts through Women’s Adaptation Labs that can inform the planning, design and future O&M of the roads. The resulting Women’s Adaptation Plans will guide investments by the CSmaRT project.

The detailed Terms of Reference and Deliverables for this assignment are presented in Annex 3. The total duration of this assignment is estimated at up to 10 months.

2.3 Information about the Contract Package

GCA intends to enter into a contract that covers the Terms of Reference and Deliverables described in Annex 3.

Bidders are cautioned that the timing of submitting a clarification request is based on when the request is received by the GCA, not when a clarification request is submitted by a bidder. As transmission can be delayed due to file transfer size, transmission speed or other technical factors, bidders should plan to submit clarification requests well in advance of the clarification Deadline to avoid submitting late due to technical issues. Bidders submitting near the clarification Deadline do so at their own risk.

All clarifications from each bidder must be placed in one consolidated request.

3.3 Language

The proposals, all correspondence and documents related to the RFP exchanged by the bidder and GCA, must be written in English.

Supporting documents and printed literature that the bidder provides may be in another language, provided they are accompanied by an accurate translation into English.

GCA will not reimburse any costs incurred by interested bidders with connection with preparation and submission of their responses to this RFP.

3.5 Alteration or Withdrawal of Proposals

Bidders may alter or withdraw their proposals by written notification to GCA prior to the deadline for submission of proposals referred to in Section 4.1. No submission may be altered after this deadline. Withdrawals must be unconditional and will end all participation in the RFP procedure.

3.6 Signature of the Proposal

The signature of the authorized representative of the bidder (single bidder or lead partner in case of a joint proposal) in Annex 1 will be considered as the signature of the proposal, binding the bidder to the terms included in the proposal.

If, however, there are any circumstances that require GCA to request for validity extension from bidders, GCA shall do so in writing. Bidders have the right to accept or reject the request. In the latter case, the bidder's proposal shall not be evaluated.

3.8 Currency

Proposals must be presented in EUR.

3.9 Content of this RFP

The package of this RFP comprises the following:

- a) Instructions to bidders (this RFP document)
- b) Annex 1: Proposal Submission/Identification Form

3.10 Joint Proposals and Subcontracting

An interested bidder may submit a proposal as a single entity or collaborate with other service providers to present a proposal either by submitting a joint proposal or through subcontracting. Proposals may also combine both approaches. The legal status and role of each legal entity shall be clearly described in the proposal, as well as the responsibilities of each entity in providing the services required by this RFP.

Joint proposals will be evaluated on a consolidated basis. Joint bidders/ventures must appoint a lead firm/organization and a point of contact authorized to act on their behalf in connection with the submission of the proposal and all relevant questions, clarification requests, notifications, etc. that may be received during the evaluation and award phases, and until signature of the contract.

If the joint proposal is successful, the GCA will sign the contract with the lead firm/organization, authorized by the other members to sign the contract on their behalf. All members of the joint proposal assume joint and several liability towards the GCA for the performance of the contract. Changes in the composition of the group after the proposal submission deadline and before the contract signature may lead to the rejection of the proposal except in case of a merger/takeover of a member of the group, in which case all Eligibility, Selection and Award Criteria must still be fulfilled by the new group.

There will be no public opening session for the proposals received. Offers will be opened privately by GCA after the closing time specified for the receipt of proposals. No public announcement of the contents of any offer will be made at any time.

5. Evaluation of Proposals and Bidders

The evaluation of bidders and proposals will be done in accordance with the following subsequent steps:

- Verification that the bidder fulfils the Exclusion Criteria in Section 5.1 and that it is not in one of the situations covered by the exclusion criteria listed in EU Directive 2014/24/EU.
- Verification that the bidder has the appropriate capacities to perform the contract based on the Selection Criteria described in Section 5.2 (only for those bidders that were not excluded based on the Exclusion Criteria).
- Evaluation of the bidder based on the Award Criteria described in Section 5.3 (only for those bidders that have met the Selection Criteria). Scoring for each Award Criterion will be conducted using the following scale:
 - Excellent
 - Good
 - Average
 - Below average
 - Poor
- The Evaluation Committee shall evaluate the technical proposals first and shall thereafter open and evaluate the financial proposals of only those bidders whose technical proposals meet the minimum technical score.

- Where individual scoring is adopted, the Evaluation Committee shall discuss scores where there are significant discrepancies prior to computing the average score for each criterion.
- During financial evaluation, where there is a discrepancy between the amounts in figures and in words, the amount in words shall govern. Where there is a discrepancy between the unit rate and the line-item total resulting from multiplying the unit rate by the quantity, the unit rate shall govern, unless in the opinion of the Evaluation Committee there is an obviously gross misplacement of the decimal point in the unit rate, in which case the line-item total shall govern, and the unit rate shall be corrected.

The proposal must comply with the GCA strategic requirements set in this RFP as a precondition to be assessed. In a case of non-compliance with the Exclusion Criteria, the bidder will be informed of the grounds for rejection without being given feedback on the content of the proposal other than on the non-compliant elements.

The evaluation of proposals shall be carried out by an Evaluation Committee made up of representatives of GCA. Any attempt by a bidder to influence the Evaluation Committee in the process of examination, clarification, evaluation, due diligence checks, etc., to obtain information on how the procedure is progressing or to influence GCA in its decision concerning the award of the contract, will result in the immediate rejection of the bidder's proposal.

In the interest of transparency and equal treatment, without being able to modify their proposals, bidders may be required, at the sole written request of the Evaluation Committee (via Procurement), to provide clarifications within 48 hours. Requests for clarification will only seek minor clarifications of information already submitted by the bidder. No modifications to a proposal can be sought or accepted through a request for clarification (except for the correction of arithmetical errors discovered during the evaluation of the proposal).

5.1 Exclusion Criteria

Participation in this RFP is open on equal terms to any natural and legal companies not in any of the situations listed in Article 57 of the EU Directive 2014/24/EU.

Bidders shall provide a Declaration of Honor (see Annex 2), duly signed and dated, including a statement that they are not in any of the situations listed in Article 57 of EU Directive 2014/24/EU. In the event of a joint proposal such a declaration shall be submitted for each partner. The declaration shall also be submitted for the subcontractors, when relevant.

Besides the submission of the signed Declaration of Honor, the bidder undertakes to inform GCA, without delay, of any changes to their situation in this regard.

Bidders may be excluded from participation in this RFP if they are found to be in one of the situations for exclusion or fail to submit the above-mentioned declaration.

5.2 Selection Criteria

Bidders will be evaluated against each Selection Criterion based on the documentary evidence submitted by the bidder. Failure to submit the evidence requested will lead to a rejection of the proposal. Bidders will be evaluated against the Selection Criteria on a pass/fail basis. Annex 3: Scope of Work/Terms of Reference

1. Background Information

1.1 Introduction to the Global Center on Adaptation

The Global Center on Adaptation (GCA) is an international organization that works as a solutions broker to catalyze action and support for adaptation solutions, from the international to the local, in partnership with the public and private sector, to ensure we learn from each other and work together for a climate resilient future. Adapting to impacts of climate change provides a “win-win” for health, livelihoods, food security, water supply, human security, and economic growth. The work of the GCA elevates the visibility and political importance of climate adaptation and facilitates solutions, such as smarter investments, new technologies and better planning to become more resilient to climate-related threats. GCA is a rapidly growing organization with offices in Abidjan, Beijing, Dhaka, Groningen, and Rotterdam.

The GCA has an ambitious 2020-2025 business plan with three pillars:

- Programs and Action: Food Security; Using Nature for more resilient infrastructure; Water for Urban Growth and Resilience; Climate Finance; Youth Leadership
- Knowledge Acceleration: Building adaptation knowledge globally through cutting edge products such as the State and Trends in Adaptation Report and the Knowledge Exchange Platform
- Agenda Setting and Advocacy: Formulating policy messages to move the global, regional, and local adaptation agendas forward.

1.2 Introduction to GCA’s Work on Locally Led Adaptation (LLA)

The impacts of climate change are most acutely felt by socially, economically, and politically disadvantaged and marginalized people and groups because of their higher vulnerability and lower adaptive capacity. Recognizing the highly localized nature of climate impacts; the importance of local adaptation action; the potential and creativity of communities to develop locally appropriate and innovative solutions; the ownership benefits of community-driven action; and the strong need for accountability to poor and marginalized communities affected by climate change, the GCA is strongly committed to addressing barriers to accelerating and scaling up LLA through the Global Hub on Locally Led Adaptation. The Hub aims to promote LLA at scale, with speed, to reduce climate risks for populations and sections of society that are most vulnerable to climate change. The activities of the Hub are guided by the eight Principles for Locally Led Adaptation.

In addition to knowledge sharing, peer-to-peer learning and capacity strengthening, the Global Hub on LLA supports the development of People’s Adaptation Plans, based on the local contextualization of this Guide, as part of the GCA’s Adaptation Acceleration Program. The Hub is currently supporting People’s Adaptation Plans in multiple countries across Africa and nine cities in Bangladesh. These Plans are produced by communities exposed to vulnerability, with facilitation by GCA partners, to inform investments by projects from International Financial Institutions (IFIs) such as the World Bank, African Development Bank, Asian Development Bank, and Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank.

2. Background and objective of the Assignment

2.1 Background

GCA's national infrastructure stress test estimates that the road network in Bangladesh can suffer annual damages as high as €7.4 billion – 1.6% of the national GDP in 2023 – during coastal flood events (RCP4.5, 50-year events). According to the GCA study, 95% of the road network (170,782 km) is exposed to at least one type of climate hazard.

Roads can also block the natural flow of water if they are not well planned, resulting in flooding, land erosion, sedimentation, reduced recharge of aquifers and rivers, and damage to personal and public property, infrastructure and agricultural assets. The roads themselves are damaged due to the disrupted water flow, causing further negative impacts on poor communities by restricting access to markets and health care and educational facilities, and negatively contributing to road safety. On the flip side, if roads are well planned, designed and maintained, they can result in multiple benefits to communities, including improved agricultural productivity and access to water and other public services.

The World Bank is currently preparing the US$ 200 million “Climate Smart Rural Transport Project (CSmaRT)” which aims to enhance the climate resilience of the transport network in rural Bangladesh by implementing integrated rural transport planning and resilient transport asset management in 41 out of 64 districts in Bangladesh. It focuses on designing climate-resilient and safer rural roads, establishing an integrated rural transport planning and resilient asset management, and adopting sustainable road maintenance approaches through Performance-Based Maintenance Contracts (PBMCs). Additionally, it includes pilot dredging of rural waterways and ports to explore alternative modes of transport in rural Bangladesh.

Despite the ambitious plan to invest in rural transport network in 41 districts, there are limitations to adequately address potential climate risks to rural roads, and direct and cascading climate impacts on key sectors (such as agriculture, energy, and public health), which can impede national efforts to reduce poverty and achieve the Sustainable Development Goals. Several sectors rely heavily on the rural transport system in Bangladesh, and disruptions in transport typically have knock-on effects on these sectors, well beyond the affected areas.

Recognizing this, the World Bank has requested GCA's support to engage low-income communities, particularly women, living in the hinterland of the roads in select project areas through Women's Adaptation Labs. The goal is to inform the planning and design of roads under the project, maximizing not only benefits such as improved mobility and access to essential services, but also enhancing water management by better managing road runoff and making it available for various purposes, such as agriculture and groundwater recharge. To achieve this, the Green Roads for Water approach will be followed, which promotes the use of roads as tools for water management and climate resilience. Various Green Roads for Water measures will be applied when designing new roads or maintaining and upgrading existing ones. These measures include capturing runoff through strategic channels, (gated) culverts, and side drains, storing it in ponds or trenches, and making it available for uses such as agricultural irrigation or livestock drinking water.

GCA seeks an implementation partner (who will work in partnership with another local partner based in Rajshahi) with substantial expertise in community engagement and community-led development, climate adaptation planning, and facilitating multi-disciplinary dialogues, to engage and support women's groups living in the hinterland of two selected stretches of roads (not more than 10 KM each) in Rajshahi to identify key climate vulnerabilities, and collaborate with technical experts through Women's Adaptation Labs that can inform the planning, design and future O&M of the roads. The resulting Women's Adaptation Plans will guide investments by the CSmaRT project.

3. Scope of the Services to be Performed

The organization is expected to work in close collaboration with a local implementing partner, to provide the following key services:

1. Identify/form women's groups living in the hinterland of the selected roads in Rajshahi and train them in locally led climate risk and vulnerability assessments and adaptation planning.
2. Support climate vulnerable women's groups in mapping and profiling of climate related risks, and of potential benefits/ reduction of vulnerability, related to the design, construction, and O&M of the rural roads. The general methodologies described in the section below will be contextualized for the women's groups to assessing climate risks and vulnerabilities. This will be informed by the scientific present and future climate risk and vulnerability assessment conducted by another technical partner¹ of GCA.
3. Facilitate Women's Adaptation Labs for women's groups spanning communities in the hinterland and risk dialogues with technical experts (including hydrologists, drainage experts, engineers, nature-based solutions expert, gender/social inclusion experts and contractors) to identify ways of minimizing risks and maximizing benefits through the design, construction, and O&M of the road.
4. Conceptualize and apply "Green Roads for Water" techniques following the World Bank's guide, to design roads to capture and store water through strategic interventions such as channels, culverts, and ponds and divert it for agricultural use, and to develop O&M plans which could include repairing holes, clearing of culverts and outlets, managing roadside vegetation, turfing of slopes, etc. This will inform the prioritization of adaptation solutions by the women's groups.
5. Support women's groups in developing Women's Adaptation Plans outlining costed priority adaptation solutions including nature-based interventions and an associated strategy for community-led O&M based on the results of activity 2, 3 and 4.
6. Facilitate cross community collaboration on developing plans for maintenance and operation of roads, mapping current maintenance efforts & exploring how communities / women can be more engaged in this.
7. Support the uptake of adaptation solutions identified through the Women's Adaptation Labs by the CSmaRT project through regular check-ins with the PIU and local and national level consultations, in liaison with project executive agency Local Government Engineering Department (LGED).
8. Document the methodology and best practices utilized in the Labs to be replicated in other locations within the project, in liaison with LGED.
9. Train PIUs in implementing the methodologies in other project areas, through contextualized and adapted version.

¹ GCA's Infrastructure and Nature-based Solutions team will bring on board a technical partner to conduct a scientific climate risks and vulnerability assessments for all 41 districts under the CSmaRT project. The implementing partner is expected to coordinate and liaise with the technical partner for ground truthing of the scientific assessments for selected roads in Rajshahi through the Women's Adaptation Labs developing process.

The Women's Adaptation Plans delivered by the Partner will entail the following components:

- A description of the processes and methodologies followed to ensure a locally-led process and to support local leadership.
- A consolidated climate vulnerability and risk profile of the select project area based on the scientific current and future climatic risks, and locally led vulnerability and risks assessments by the women's groups. Both climate-related extreme events and slow onset impacts should be considered.
- Data collected from the project area during the settlement profiling and mapping processes and analyzed to inform community deliberations.
- Case studies illustrating climate vulnerabilities, including inputs and quotes from community members.
- A list of priority adaptation investments related to roads and relevant sectors through the application of "Green Roads for Water" concept identified and validated by the community and local authorities.
- A Women's Adaptation Plan, developed as part of the Women's Adaptation Lab process.
- A community plan/strategy for future O&M of roads.

During the process of facilitating Women's Adaptation Labs, the Partner is expected to develop and maintain a good working relationship with LGED, participating upazila and union parishad and other key government agencies operating in the area. Non-government and private sector stakeholders will also be identified and engaged in the process to create wider buy-in as necessary. The Partner will also collaborate closely with the World Bank to ensure that timelines and priorities are coordinated.

4. Key Tasks and Activities to be Performed

The facilitation of the Women's Adaptation Labs will draw on GCA's framework on contextualizing and operationalizing Women's Adaptation Labs while the Women's Adaptation Plans will draw on best practices documented by the GCA in Locally Led Planning: A Guide for Building Climate Resilience in Urban Informal Settlements, and on the Partner's own tools and approaches for conducting community-led planning processes in Bangladesh. Strong emphasis should be given on meaningful participation of local actors including local government, NGOs, CBOs, civil society actors, academia and local community members.

Typically, the following steps are followed for developing People's Adaptation Plans:

1. Stakeholder mapping: The People's Adaptation Plans process begins with a preliminary mapping of key stakeholders operating within the area / location of intervention. This is essential for defining roles and responsibilities of different actors, and thereby convene necessary expertise and leadership to drive the process. This also helps to understand the interests of different actors and existing power dynamics, and accordingly form partnerships for future steps.
2. Formation of Steering Committee and Advisory Committee: Following the stakeholder analysis, a Steering Committee is established comprising of thematic experts and representatives of implementing partners, are formed for providing strategic direction and guidance for the process. In addition, an Advisory Committee comprising of local actors is formed to take leadership and steer the work on the ground.

3. Climate risk assessment: At the outset, a scientific analysis of current and future risks faced by the area of intervention is conducted. This aims to inform and complement community-led climate risk profiling to be conducted at a later stage.
4. Community mobilizers' training: Local residents from identified settlements are then trained to work as co-researchers and community mobilizers to undertake data collection and other research activities in collaboration with local actors. Mobilizing local residents for this activity is essential as it helps foster trust with the local community and thereby facilitates entry into the settlement.
5. Settlement mapping: Trained community mobilizers and co-researchers visit identified settlements and map out key geographical features and infrastructure in the area. This is often complemented by GIS mapping.
6. Settlement profiling: Occurring in parallel with settlement mapping, community mobilizers and co-researchers speak to a sample of households within the settlements to get a broad understanding of the different climate related risks and challenges faced by local communities. This provides a snapshot of the settlement.
7. Household numbering and enumeration: Following settlement mapping and profiling, a household-level census is conducted to collect demographic and socioeconomic data as well as any other key data to develop a thorough understanding of adaptation related challenges and requirements of the local communities. This is guided by a detailed questionnaire developed in consultation with GCA and the Steering Committee. The data collected during this process is fed into a data monitoring tool and analyzed further for presentation to the community for validation and to guide the next step of risk profiling.
8. Climate risk profiling: Through a series of community-led dialogues and group discussions, a climate risk profiling exercise is conducted to identify and rank climate risks, diagnose impacts, evaluate strategies and ideas for potential solutions to address these impacts, and to assess opportunities and barriers to implement the proposed solutions.
9. Developing a list of costed priority interventions: A list of costed priority interventions, identified and validated by local communities and actors, is subsequently developed for consideration as investment projects.

The Women's Adaptation Labs will typically follow the same community-led data collection process as the People's Adaptation Planning with a particular focus on women to address their adaptation needs. The conceptualization and design of the Labs will be done in consultation with GCA and will focus on best practices for empowering women to take action and lead decision-making to address their climate vulnerabilities.

The partner has to conduct the following key activities:

- Conceptualization: Define the objectives and scope of the Lab as per the context of the project and determine the best way for the Women's Lab process to interact with the People's Adaptation Planning process.
- Secondary analysis: Conduct a secondary analysis of project areas through data gathering from secondary sources, and an analysis of existing socio-economic and climate data to inform community dialogues.

- Identification, formation and congregation of women’s groups: Identify and form women’s groups in a select project area based on preset criteria, for participation in the Women’s Labs.
- Facilitation of women led climate risk and vulnerability assessment: Organize the women’s groups to engage in a series of dialogues and group discussions, following the steps 5-8 of the People Adaptation Plan development process to identify and rank climate risks, diagnose vulnerabilities and impacts, evaluate strategies and ideas for potential solutions to address these impacts, and to assess opportunities and barriers to implement the proposed solutions.
- Identification of technical experts: Identify relevant technical experts including hydrologists, drainage experts, engineers, nature-based solutions expert, gender/social inclusion experts, contractors, vendors, manufacturers, and others, to support the women’s groups.
- Survey of existing infrastructure: Conduct survey of existing roads and other relevant infrastructure to collect detailed data on current conditions and climate vulnerabilities, and accordingly identify optimal design solutions.
- Facilitation of dialogues to design solutions and develop a list of priority investment options for Green Roads for Water: Facilitate dialogues between and within women’s groups and technical experts, to develop and cost solutions, and prepare a list of priority investments through the application of “Green Roads for Water” techniques for the CSmaRT project.
- Development and validation of Women’s Adaptation Plans: Support women’s groups to produce a Women’s Adaptation Plan based on the adaptation solutions explored in the Women’s Adaptation Labs and get validation and endorsement from relevant local authorities including the CSmaRT project executive agency, LGED.
- Preparation of a manual: Develop a manual outlining the methodology and best practices utilized in the Labs to be replicated in locations within the project. The manual should also include a monitoring, evaluation and learning strategy to measure the effectiveness of the Labs.

ARTICLE 10

10. Intellectual, Industrial and Proprietary Rights

- 10.1 All right, title and interest in the Deliverables, including any products, methods, works and/or materials developed by the Contractor, in whole or in part, during or in connection with this Contract, shall automatically vest in the GCA upon creation and the GCA shall be the sole and unlimited owner thereof and of rights therein throughout the world perpetually. GCA shall retain all such rights therein, including but not limited to statutory copyrights, and all renewals thereof, as a copyright author and proprietor.
- 10.2 The Contractor agrees to execute and deliver, and to use maximum endeavors to cause any subcontractor to execute and deliver, to GCA any and all materials, instruments, source documents, designs, instructions and codes reasonably required by the GCA in connection with the use, adaption, execution and enjoyment of the Deliverables and of the GCA's rights therein and thereto.
- 10.3 Contractor undertakes to do everything necessary to ensure that all existing and any future Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights pertaining to the Deliverables are (and remain) vested with GCA or with third party designated by the GCA. The Fee or rates that Contractor charges to GCA in the context of the Contract shall be deemed, in as far as necessary, to include payment for these Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights. To effect this transfer, the following acts must at any rate be performed: by signing the Contract, Contractor transfers to GCA all existing and future Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights to existing and future Deliverables and the results of the Services.
- 10.4 Insofar as these acts prove not to ensure that all Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights are transferred to the GCA, the Contractor undertakes, if the situation arises, to do everything possible to effect the transfer, without the Contractor being allowed to attach further conditions to its cooperation. As long as this has not been done, Contractor hereby gives the GCA: an irrevocable authorization to exercise and protect the powers arising from the relevant Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights in and out of court; an exclusive, royalty-free, transferable, irrevocable, perpetual, and worldwide license, to use all Deliverables and all Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights pertaining thereto.
- 10.5 Notwithstanding the foregoing, insofar as Contractor has made any material available to GCA, to which material Contractor has Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights, Contractor states that it shall grant GCA a non-exclusive and non-transferable right to use this material.
- 10.6 The Contractor shall hold or obtain all consents, permissions and/or clearances in third-party intellectual property rights necessary to enable it to perform the Services. The Contractor shall be liable for any violation of legal provisions or rights of third parties in respect of all rights used in the Deliverables or during the performance of the Services. The Contractor, to the extent permitted by law, agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the GCA from all claims and causes of action asserted by third parties based on (alleged) Intellectual and/or Industrial Property Rights or on any other basis.

- 10.7 It is acknowledged and agreed by the Parties that GCA owns all property rights and may use, adapt, add to and subtract from the Deliverables and combine these with other artistic or literary material and to publish the result by any means, it being understood that the Contractor (including its employees and subcontractors) hereby waives and agrees not to exercise or enforce any so-called “moral rights” which may now or may hereafter be recognized.
- 10.8 GCA grants Contractor a non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-assignable and limited right and license to use the following only to perform the Services in accordance with this Contract: The GCA’s trademarks, trade names, tag lines logos or service marks and any information made available to the Contractor by the GCA.

ARTICLE 11

11. Termination of the Contract

- 11.1 In addition to the statutory provisions pertaining to termination, in the cases below, without judicial intervention or further notice of default, whole or partial termination of this Contract shall be possible, with immediate effect, by:
- 11.1.1 Either Party, if the other Party becomes insolvent, has applied for a suspension of payment, or that other Party has been adjudicated bankrupt;
 - 11.1.2 Either Party, if the other Party is prevented by force majeure from complying with its obligations wholly or in part for a period of three months or more;
 - 11.1.3 Either Party, if the other Party discontinues its business operations;
 - 11.1.4 The GCA, if the Contractor, after a written demand from the GCA allowing a reasonable time for compliance, still fails attributable to comply promptly, properly or at all with any obligation under this Contract;
 - 11.1.5 The GCA, if there is any doubt about the reliability and/or integrity of the Contractor, resulting from the screening process including but not limited to, for example, the condition that it has been determined that the Contractor has been involved in serious incidents or irregularities with previously contracted persons, clients, employers and/or on previous assignments;
 - 11.1.6 The GCA, if one or more of the exclusion criteria mentioned in section I or section II of the signed Declaration on Honor becomes true for the Contractor.
- 11.2 Termination of this Contract shall not affect the other rights and/or recovery possibilities of the Party terminating it.
- 11.3 In the event of termination by GCA due to the fault of the Contractor, the GCA shall withhold and deduct from payment to Contractor the amount reasonably deemed necessary to complete the Services and deliver the Deliverables.
- 11.4 Unless and to the extent otherwise specified in this Contract, on the termination of this Contract for any reason, the GCA shall be responsible for paying the part of the Fee for Deliverables that have been accepted by the GCA up to and including the effective date of termination.

- 11.5 In the event that either Party wishes to terminate this Contract, a 30-day notice period will be taken into account by both the Contractor and the GCA, except for the situations mentioned in Article 11.1 above.
- 11.6 The following Articles shall survive any termination, cancellation or expiration of this Contract, together with any other provisions herein that by their nature shall survive: Article 7 (Warranties), Article 8 (Indemnification), Article 9 (Confidentiality and Marks), Article 10 (Intellectual, Industry and Proprietary Rights), Article 14.8 (Notice) and Article 15 (Applicable Law).

From that moment all the fees involved will be considered as (gross) wages including holiday allowance and be reduced to the level where payment without wage taxes and/ or social security contributions can take place.

ARTICLE 13

13. Sickness and Inability to Work

- 13.1 The Contractor agrees to bear the risks pertaining to the Services, including sickness and inability to work, and if the Contractor takes out insurance to cover such risks, the Contractor shall bear the cost of such insurance.
- 13.2 The Contractor shall not invoice the GCA any days on which the Contractor was unable to perform the Services due to illness, leave or any other reason.
